If you are not feeling well or have been recently exposed to someone with covid, please enjoy the live stream of our worship at home.

Q5: How does LLFC use the money received each week?

A: Tithe is remitted to the conference. Offerings designated for conference use are returned to the conference. All unrestricted offerings are used to support our local church budget first to sustain LLFC. While we do not have a surplus in the church budget currently, it is our plan that when LLFC receives the blessing of a surplus, it will be allocated 50/50. Fifty percent to financially support mission focused ministries with seed money and fifty percent to pay for capital improvement projects required for campus maintenance. Offerings with restricted use are set aside to financially support whichever LLFC ministry or project the donor designates.

PASTOR'S NOTE

The entire month of June is a time of celebration. Celebrating the accomplishments of those who graduated from Kindergarten through Graduate school. If you are graduating, one thing you realize is that you do not reach milestone all by your own efforts. It takes a community. Today, we are "A Call to Community: Life Together." I like what Pastor Tara V. wrote in her book, "Deep Calling," God's power through the community of the church is greater than the sum of God's power in our lives individually. It is time to reconnect to the power of life lived in community."

We are stronger together. Most believe that. But do we believe that what this is true as well for our spiritual well-being? Could it be possible that we try and grow spiritually alone? We do it by reading our Bible, studying our quarterly, and praying alone. But do we belong to a community where we meet regularly to share life together, encourage one another, and pray for each other? Isn't it interesting that even Jesus brought twelve people who did life and ministry together? If you are not part of one, God is inviting you to join one, or even create one. Why not pray about it?
